Chateau Construction Testimonial

Cascade Design Group has been doing the structural and lateral engineering for virtually every custom home Chateau Construction has built since its inception almost 8 years ago. Pete Bambe and his staff are very professional yet approachable. They do a great job listening to unique situations/circumstances and helping us find alternatives that we can implement in the field at a reasonable cost.

Occasionally, the city or county has additional questions regarding the engineering for a particular project. I really appreciate that Pete promptly addresses the question and provides the appropriate supplemental documentation or letter of clarification without additional charges. Pete stands behind his work and that has built a good friendship and a relationship of trust. For these reasons, I can give him my highest recommendation without hesitation.

Best Regards,

Mike Moore
