To Whom It May Concern:

We are a log home construction company that has used Cascade Design Group for over 10 years in many different projects ranging from open log structures to several large log houses and timber structures. These projects range from the ordinary to difficult with many of them having high wall concrete foundations. We build 3-5 homes a year and Cascade Design Group supplies us with all of our engineering needs including on-site inspections. Sometimes we receive plans for log kits with out of state engineering on them. We always take these to Cascade Design Group and feel that Pete and his crew supply us with engineering that better suits our style of construction and the needs of our area. We appreciate the patience that Pete and Cascade Design Group has shown Ivan and our company with our sometimes unique and challenging projects. We look forward to continuing our working relationship in the future!
